Antioch to Play Northbrook, Dolores Miller is Chosen Queen

This is Homecoming week for Antioch Township High school.

Heading up as usual with a football game in which Northbrook will be the foe, the school will carry out its traditional program.

The celebration calls for a bonfire at the village park at 7 o'clock tonight with a snake dance afterward.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock a parade of student groups with floats will move down Main st., headed by the school band and a float bearing the Homecoming queen and her attendants.

Miss Dolores Miller, a senior, is homecoming queen and her attendants with each class represented are Adele Risch, senior; Marlene Nader, junior; Patricia Kelleher, sophomore; and Sue Scott, freshman.

The game tomorrow evening will start at 7:30 and following the game there will be a dance.

Full Team Strength

Coach Maurice Kruzan said that for the first time since the Zion game he will have all members of his first string backfield in the lineup when the Sequoits take the field against Northbrook tomorrow evening. Sickness, injuries, or ineligibility have plagued the team in recent games.

The team will attempt to live up to its record of not losing the homecoming game regardless of the others that may have been lost.

Last week the Sequoits lost to Palatine there on Saturday afternoon 21 to 6.

"They had the better team," said Coach Kruzan in accounting for the loss.

Besides her husband she is survived by William Horton, of Antioch, who lived with the family since the age of five, and several nieces and nephews.

The Cobbs had prepared to celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary next year. Their home was made in the country up until 36 years ago when they moved into the village.

The funeral service was held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Strang funeral home with the Rev. Warren C. Henslee, former pastor of the Methodist church in charge. Interment was at the Hillside cemetery.

Hebron Man Arrested Here for Molesting Two Teen-Age Girls

Awaiting charges from the state's attorney's office is Gabriel Michalski, 27, of Hebron, who was arrested by Antioch police Sunday for molesting minor girls and making indecent proposals.

Michalski, himself the father of three children, is said to have admitted to Magistrate Elmer Brooks having made advances to two teen-age Chicago girls staying at Channel lake with their parents over the weekend.

The girls said they were approached by Michalski while they awaited father of one of them to pick them up in Antioch where they came to attend a movie. His proposals frightened them and they ran. He ran too, but was caught later by the father of one of the girls and turned over to the Antioch police who brought him before Judge Brooks.

Brooks sent him to the county jail pending further action from the state's attorney's office.

Board Extends Bidding Deadline 30 Days When No Bids Are Received

Suit Against Soo Line To Get Track Crossing To Be Filed

Under the belief that bids may yet be submitted the village board of trustees extended for 30 days the period under which contractors may place their estimates for the construction of the improved sewage system.

No bids were received at the time the board met last Thursday evening. The village is anxious to comply with the state's order to make its sewage disposal plant adequate and it is ready with revenue bonds to pay for the construction. Because of rising prices it has been difficult to get bids on many public projects.

The board delayed for the time being any action on the feeler from Antioch Hills as to whether water for that subdivision may be obtained next spring. The attitude of some members of the board is that the village now has much undeveloped property which if developed would create a demand for all the water the water works system now can supply. It is the taxpayers that first must be accommodated, they said.

At the suggestion of George McGaughey, village attorney, Attorney Ben Thacker, of Waukegan, was employed to take court action in forcing the Soo line to permit a crossing of the tracks to get in and out of the village property east of the village.

The railroad removed the crossing under what it maintained was its legal right after the crossing had been in disuse for five years or more. The village maintains that it is deprived of the use of its gravel pit and garbage disposal place because of a lack of egress.

Permits were issued by the board to S. Boyer Nelson for the erection of a residence at an estimated cost of $6,000, and to Frank Nelson for a residence on Main st., at an estimated cost of $7,500.

A request of Clarence Hansen to alterate a two-flat building on Lake st., to provide a store room for a furniture store, was not acted upon at this time.

Ravenglen Cow Has Record of 688 lbs. Butterfat and 18,691 lbs. Milk

A registered Holstein-Friesian cow in the dairy herd owned by Charles P. O'Neill, Antioch, has recently completed a year of production testing in the official Herd Improvement Registry program of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

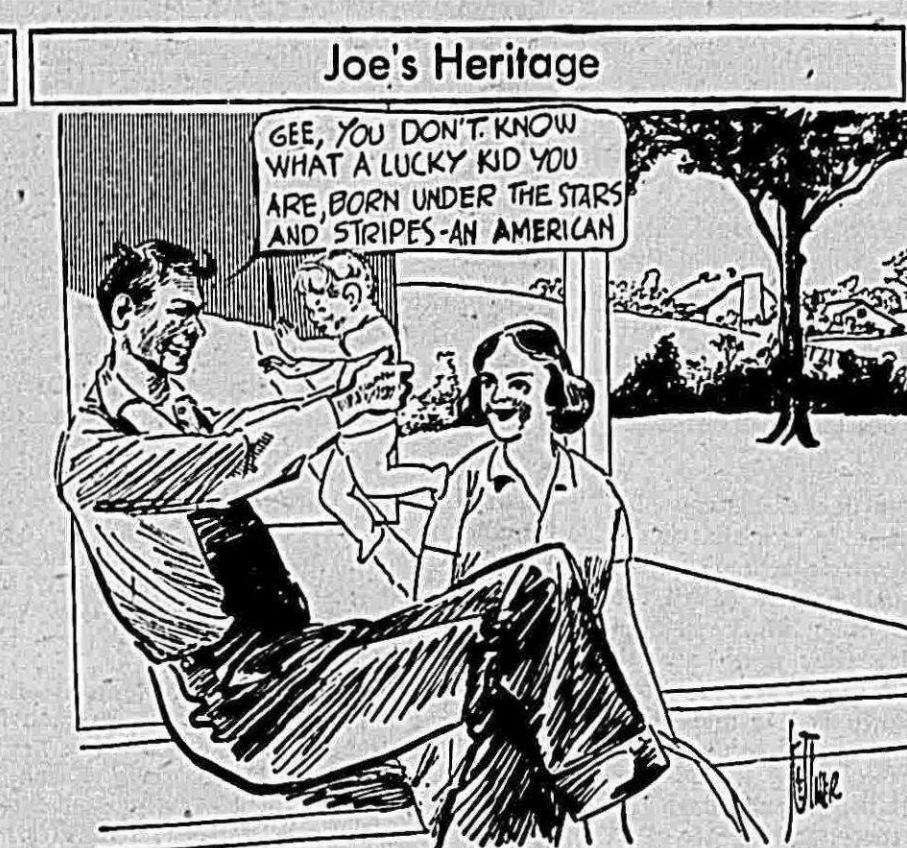

An average of 453 pounds of butterfat and 12,908 pounds of milk has been officially recorded. Milking was done twice daily.

The highest producer in the herd was Intercreeken Fobes, Bonheur, a 3-year-old, which produced 503 lbs. of butterfat and 13,469 pounds of milk.

Testing was supervised by University of Illinois, in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

The girls said they were approached by Michalski while they awaited father of one of them to pick them up in Antioch where they came to attend a movie. His proposals frightened them and they ran. He ran too, but was caught later by the father of one of the girls and turned over to the Antioch police who brought him before Judge Brooks.

Brooks sent him to the county jail pending further action from the state's attorney's office.

Hunts Mud Hens on Lake And Lands 13-Pound Fish

Robert Belter of Channel Lake took his gun, his dog, and his duck boat with him this week in a hunting trip for mud hens at Grass lake and returned not with mud hens, but with a 13-pound catfish.

Belter's scanning of the waters for fowl brought within his vision an end of a fishing pole bobbing up and down in the water. Out after mud hens he came very near ignoring the fishing pole, but finally decided to investigate.

On the pole was reel and as he reeled in the line he felt a tug. He soon landed the 13-pound fish which was the only game he saw during the day.

Young Artists to Soap Windows for Prizes in Antioch on Halloween

Nearly a score of business firms have signified their intentions of giving their store windows over to soap art for Halloween and will give prizes, Charles Schroeder of the Antioch Shoe Repair service announced. "This will mean we will have about 20 prizes to award this year," Schroeder said.

First to start the plan of assigning space on his store window for soap drawings, Schroeder is finding the plan popular with other merchants.

The contest will be open to school children outside Antioch as well as those in the village, the Halloween program committee announced. Those who want to compete must notify Principal Richard Whitacre who will assign the contestants to windows on Oct. 25.

American Legion Offers Services Upon Return of Antioch War Dead

Douglas D. Getchell, department commander of The American Legion in Illinois called upon all Legionnaires in this state to "stand by" during the return of the honored war dead. Declaring it was the duty of all Legion posts to see that the proper honors were paid to these heroes, he termed it a "tremendous responsibility of all good Legionnaires, a sacred trust in which we cannot fail." The first of the war dead arrive in this country October 10th.

Outlining the Legion plan of tribute to their departed comrades in arms, the department commander urged that all employers see to it that the veterans who will take part in these many funeral ceremonies, are given the time off to perform their duties at the church and grave. He said that businessmen everywhere were cooperating in this respect. American Legion Commanders should hold meetings inviting city officials and employers to discuss this problem immediately, he said.

Will Notify Posts

Lyle K. Snavely, of Department Headquarters in Bloomington has been assigned by the Department Commander to handle all details of the Department program and will immediately get in touch with the local Legion Post Commanders throughout the state when the bodies arrive at the redistribution center. "The American Legion is at the service of the families of these returning war dead," Department Commander Getchell said, "if it is their desire to have that service."

When the information has been received by the post commander he will take with him his post chaplain and graves registration and memorial chairman, call on the next of kin, offer condolences in the name of the American Legion, and extend to them the services of the Legion by providing an honor guard, firing squad, pallbearers, bugler and chaplain, if so desired. The next of kin will be requested to notify the Post Commander when the final telegram is received from the War Department announcing the time and place of arrival of the deceased, so that a representative of the Legion Post may meet the government escort that will accompany the body.

Commander Edward J. Frazier of the Antioch American Legion Post No. 748 said that his Post is ready to follow out the above program.

Village Approves 92-13 New Bond Issue of $20,000

Referendum Gives Signal to Proceed on Getting New Bids

By a vote of 92 to 13 the village on Tuesday approved a $20,000 bond issue to erect the fire station section of the new village hall.

Bids will be sought again under a modified plan of construction.

The referendum in which 107 ballots were cast and only two spoiled, is believed to be representative of the attitude of the village as a whole although the vote was not large.

The $20,000 figure includes making the building in such a manner as to support an additional story when the village offices section is added. It means that the building is much more than an ordinary garage for fire equipment.

The basement will be used for a recreation room and storage, and the first floor will have to be heavily supported for the big trucks. A heavy ceiling and roof becomes necessary for later additions, which will come at some future date with the rest of the hall.

The walls will be set back so that a brick veneer can be added later.

Albert Carlson, 80, Instantly Killed in Accident on Highway

Albert Carlson, aged 80, of 5232 Barry ave., Chicago, known in this region where he spent his summers, died Oct. 10, from injuries received when he was struck by a truck trailer 1.2 miles south of Grand ave., on Milwaukee ave.

The inquest held today is expected to bring forth evidence that the driver of a Quality Milk truck of Burlington, Wis., saw Carlson in the highway and swerved to avoid hitting him, but that evidently the trailer did not, and the aged man was killed instantly.

Mr. Carlson was said to have started out from his home at 10:30 a. m. and it is believed that he had suffered a fainting spell which caused him to lie in the roadway. He had other attacks which ended in Arlington Heights, Des Plaines and in the south side of Chicago. He was identified by the address found in his wallet.

He was a piano and organ tuner by trade.

The funeral service was held at 3 p. m. Monday at the chapel of the funeral home 4338 Fullerton ave., Chicago and burial was at Mt. Olive cemetery.

Local F. F. A. Officers Attend Training School

Recently elected officers of the Antioch Chapter of The Future Farmers of America attended an officers training school at Woodstock, Illinois Wednesday afternoon and evening of last week.

C. L. Kutil, local chapter advisor, spoke before a meeting of the reporters from 21 schools of this section.

Following a banquet at 6:30 in the High school cafeteria, the Future Farmers and their instructor listened to an illustrated address on Agricultural Russia by John Strohm, Associate Editor of The Prairie Farmer, who received Joseph Stalin's personal permission to travel in the farming regions of Russia, interview the farm people, and visit and observe the experiments of agricultural scientists. He was told by Russian officials, to tell the American people only the truth. Mr. Strohm's recently published book about Russia is entitled "Tell The Truth."

The Antioch F. F. A. Chapter has had a very successful year and is laying plans for an equally busy year just ahead.

What Enterprise Can Accomplish

According to the latest reports, the oil supply outlook for the coming winter is not entirely favorable. However, the industry has taken every possible step to meet the expected demand, and if the public will cooperate by adopting reasonable conservation measures, nothing more serious than local and temporary difficulties are likely to be encountered.

The gasoline supply problem, the reports state, has been pretty well solved. The most important current problem remains that of fuel oil. Certain unpredictable factors are involved here. If, for instance, the coming winter is abnormally cold, the situation will be more critical than is forecast. However, due to the industry's informational campaign in the Midwest and elsewhere, consumer tanks are better filled than ever before at this time of year. That will relieve to some degree the strain on industry storage facilities.

Dr. Robert E. Wilson, Chairman of Standard Oil Company of Indiana, made an interesting observation when he said: "Seldom has there been a better example of what individual enterprise can accomplish than has been shown in connection with the supply question. The competitive forces of the industry have concentrated on supplying each company's own customers almost regardless of cost, whereas if a government edict had forced the pooling of all products, no company would have felt justified in incurring such costs unless the government had adopted a gigantic reimbursement plan."

This aggressive competitive spirit, coupled with the great development campaign now underway throughout the entire oil industry, is responsible for meeting an all-time record demand with a minimum of delays and shortages.

The Camel's Nose

Speaking before an REA membership at Seminole, Oklahoma, last August, Congressman Glen D. Johnson boldly opposed the expansion of the Southwestern Power Administration. "I want our farmers to have electricity," he said, "but don't want to see my government in the power business." He warned at some length against the nationalization of industry, and observed that socialization of the electric industry would be the "camel's nose in the tent."

As the old story went, once the camel got his nose in the tent, it wasn't long until the entire animal was inside and there was no room left for anyone else. Socialization of industry always proceeds on precisely the same basis. Business after business is swallowed up, and eventually there's only room for the socialists. Free enterprise has been driven out.

There might be some excuse for government power if that were the only way the people could be adequately supplied. But the private companies, when not bedeviled by the threat of destruction, by tax-exempt government, have never failed to do the job. At the present time they are engaged in one of their most ambitious and costly expansion programs and farm electrification is at the top of the list. They sell service, under public regulation, at rates which seem ridiculously low in the light of modern prices. And they are among the biggest and most dependable local and national taxpayers.

We can't let part of the camel into the tent and expect the rest of him to remain quietly outside. The only way to prevent eventual complete socialization and regimentation of a nation's energies and resources is to block the camel's nose at the beginning.

The Health Question

In one of his recent speeches, Senator Taft touched on the problem of medical care. He emphasized his complete opposition to socialization of medicine, and to government insurance schemes which would profess to give "free" medical care to all the people. He then said that a percentage of the people are unable to pay for the service they need, and that here the government should fill the gap by appropriating funds to help state and county bodies meet the bills of the indigent.

This is an intelligent approach to the health question, and a bill incorporating Mr. Taft's proposals is scheduled for consideration by the next Congress. There is no reason on earth why all the taxpayers should contribute billions a year to provide medical service for the majority people, who are perfectly able to pay for it either in the traditional manner or through membership in one of the voluntary prepaid medical care plans. The mere administration of so grandiose a scheme would require the creation of an enormous bureaucracy, would make the pay and promotion of doctors a political matter, and would be a long step toward socialized medicine.

The use of Federal funds, locally administered, to assist those who cannot even afford to join the inexpensive prepayment plans is an entirely different matter. It fits in with modern concepts of the responsibility of the government. It would in no way regiment doctors or encourage socialization of the profession. And it would properly solve one of the last remaining major medical care problems we have.

We have been browsing again in old

Northern Illinois' cemeteries. Again we have collected epitaphs and unusual stone carvings.

And we have collected stories; there is the story of a family memorial on which the husband expresses his sentiments regarding each of his three wives; there is the story of why two monuments were erected to the memory of one man;

there are the stories of how two men buried a few hundred feet apart met their deaths by gunfire;

and there are dark tales of poisonings. This

Jean Ellyn Krueger,
Charles W. Hawkins
Marry on October 11

Before an altar bedecked with white Chrysanthemums, pompons and greens, Miss Jean Ellyn Krueger exchanged nuptial vows with Charles Warren Hawkins, son of the Fred O. Hawkins, of Antioch, on Saturday, Oct. 11. The candlelight ceremony was performed in The First Congregational church at Genoa City by Rev. George Winters.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, William C. Krueger. For her wedding she chose a gown of ivory satin fashioned with a chantilly lace bodice. A soft bertha of satin joined the bodice and the silk marquise yoke. Her bouffant skirt was worn over a hoop and made a lovely finish for the full court train and the front of the skirt.

Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a pillow of satin and pleated net.

She carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis. Mrs. Hawkins chose Miss Dorothy Robinson, a high school and college friend, to be her bridesmaid. Her sister, Miss Elizabeth Krueger, was her maid of honor. The attendants wore identical gowns of mass green satin fashioned similar to that of the bride's. Their headpieces were of gardenia leaves. Arm bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums and talisman roses were carried by them.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Fred, El Paso, Texas, and his cousin, George Hawkins, Antioch. Robert Hawkins, cousin of the groom, and Roland Krohn, cousin of the bride ushered the guests to their places.

The bride's mother attended the ceremony in a forest green crepe dress. Her hat of rose biege was finished with rust and green net. She wore a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. The groom's mother wore a dress of grey crepe with black accessories. Her corsage was also of bronze chrysanthemums.

Immediately following the reception and buffet dinner for 120 guests at the Gateway hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins left on their wedding trip. The bride chose to wear a chocolate brown gabardine suit with palamino and brown accessories for going away.

Legion Auxiliary Women Attend Caravan Meeting at Waukegan on Monday

A number of Antioch Legion auxiliary members attended a district meeting in Waukegan Monday in which a state caravan of executives and specialists in auxiliary work were present. One hundred and twenty-two were present at the noon luncheon.

Those present from Antioch were President, Mrs. L. R. Van Patten; Mrs. Lucy Himens, vice president and membership chairman; Mrs. Frank Kennedy, past president and veterans craft exchange chairman; Mrs. Walter Hill, rehabilitation chairman; Mrs. John Horan, alternate district director; Mrs. Burt Anderson, publicity and radio chairman; and Mrs. Anton W. Johnson, chairman of legislation, revisions and music.

INVITE NEW MEMBERS

Expanding activities of the American Legion Auxiliary offer new members wide opportunity for interesting and important service, according to Mrs. L. R. Van Patten, president of the auxiliary's Antioch Unit, in an invitation issued today to all eligible women to come into the organization at this time.

"Our Auxiliary Unit works closely with The American Legion Post, giving active support to all Legion projects where the work of women can be helpful. We also share in many of the Legion's social activities, as well as having our own social program. The Auxiliary has much to offer that will brighten and broaden the lives of eligible women."

Those eligible to Auxiliary membership, Mrs. Van Patten stated, are:

All wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of American Legion members and of men who lost their lives in the world wars or who have died since honorable discharge.

All women who themselves were enrolled in the armed forces in either war.

The Antioch unit has 110 members enrolled for 1947 and is expecting a large increase during the coming year.

Alice Pedersen is spending two weeks visiting friends and relatives in Philadelphia and New York.

A number of friends of Mrs. Emil Risch surprised her with a dinner party on her birthday anniversary, Friday, Oct. 3.

Mrs. Lidia Horton celebrated her 80th birthday anniversary Oct. 2, at her home in Antioch. Her friends gave her a card shower. She had many callers during the day and evening.

Lake Villa Church Starts Improvement Campaign Today to Raise $5,925

The Lake Villa Community church improvement campaign got under way today with an appeal to members and friends of the church by letter.

The pastor, the Rev. Dwight Dixon, is confident that there will be a good response to make much needed repairs and improvements.

Mr. Dixon said the church is greatly appreciative of the gift of enough tile to cover the basement floor and Flexboard for the basement and sidewalls from the Johns-Manville Corp. The gift was made through Dan Boyer and Emmett Day, company representatives.

The estimated cost of the various improvements were established as follows:

Chancel alterations, $700; side walls refinished, $275; sanctuary lighting, $250.

Basement ceiling, $500; basement walls, $500; floor tile, $300.

Kitchen redecorated $150; kitchen fixtures, $200.

Youth room—Sidewalls refinished $200; lecture stand, $25.

Main building, exterior repainted $500; hallway repainted, $175; furnace, $1,400; insulation, $750.

The work already done includes a new roof, new ceiling in sanctuary, new oil furnace, and side walls insulated.

Gifts by mail are to be sent to the Rev. Mr. Dixon.

Aged in Wood
House painters, before ready-mixed paints came on the market, bought their white lead in kegs and raised objections when metal containers were substituted; they claimed that only wood could properly "age" the lead.

Anti-Dumping Tariffs
The practice of selling goods in other countries at prices lower than those charged at home is called "dumping." U. S. law provides for anti-dumping tariffs to discourage foreign countries from "dumping" their goods in the United States.

Two Extremes
Rainfall in Africa reaches both extremes. In the Sahara desert, rain is almost unknown. But the area south of it, along the equator, is one of the雨iest and wettest regions in the world.

A CENTURY ago—in October, 1847—Cyrus Hall McCormick built the first reaper factory in Chicago and founded the International Harvester Company's business of today.

This month, Harvester is celebrating the 100th Anniversary of this event with a big and colorful exposition on Chicago's lake front at the south end of Soldier Field—a fascinating, informative portrayal of growth and progress in the mechanization of farming, truck transport, industrial power and refrigeration—topped off with music and entertainment.
